14. Regatta office	Kaserne Basel (Start/Finish area) Open on raceday from 8 -12.30 am and 2.45 - 5 p.m. During the break, the office can be reached by phone.
---------------------------	--

15. Training	Friday, November 14th 2025 : Subject to official approval, a pontoon will be opened for training runs from 12am to 5pm, latest push-off at 4pm. The river will not be closed to traffic; the Rhine Police Regulation and the navigation regulations published on the website www.baselhead.org apply.

	Saturday, November 15th 2025 (raceday): Saturday training is to be completed within the navigation blockage times from 10am to 12am. Outside this time window, the general traffic regulations apply (see 15.). No deviations will be tolerated by the authorities. From 1pm, the pontoons will only be open for crews pushing off for the race. For safety reasons, the following applies: - On Friday, all practicing teams must install a highly visible white position light at the bow. - On Friday, training is prohibited after 5 p.m. - The organizer reserves the right to impose a time penalty for teams that are still on the water on Friday after 5pm or have not installed a position light. - Training on both days is at the responsibility of the crews. Professional and large ships always have priority.
--	--

15. Traffic rules	General traffic regulations (valid at all times outside the regatta traffic regulations): The boats row upstream on the Kleinbasel side and stay on shore- side within the red buoys. Boats travelling downstream follow the line of the large ships, staying outside the buoys on the left half of the river in the direction of flow. They use the corresponding officially marked bridge crossings. Crews travelling downstream pay attention to the large ships and do not stop in the fairway. Overtaking maneuvers in both directions should be avoided. Large ships always have priority and cannot slow down or swerve for the rowing boats! If rowing boats are being overtaken, they clear the way for the larger ships. Regatta traffic rules, valid only on Saturday from 10am to 12am (Sprint) and 1:30 pm to 4pm (Mirabaud Classic) Details concerning traffic rules will be provided via the official infoletter and the coaches meeting on race day. Warming up and lining-up before the start of the head race as well as cooling-down will take place between Johanniterbrücke and Dreirosenbrücke. The regatta area is left when passing the Dreirosenbrücke.

17. Security/Liability	Coxswain <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A life jacket is mandatory for coxswains. This will be checked at the pontoon. Life jackets will only be provided by the organizer against a deposit upon prior request and can be collected from the regatta office. • This is an extremely demanding regatta course, for which only experienced coxswains may be used. Deviating from the FISA regulations, above-18 years coxswains can steer junior boats. Passenger and commercial navigation Passenger and commercial navigation will be interrupted during both races. Therefore, such traffic does not have to be taken into account during the race. However, during training before and
-------------------------------	---

	after the race, navigation will not be closed. Each team is responsible for observing the traffic rules when training according to the Rhine Police Regulation. Caution is always required, including Friday training (see above section "Training times"). Traffic regulations Violations of the traffic rules, especially near the bridges and the turning point, will be sanctioned with time penalties! Current The Rhine is a river with current. When on the water, especially near the bridges, extreme caution is required. The referee's instructions must always be followed. Liability The organizer does not assume any liability for accidents or damage on land or water. Participating clubs are advised to take out a liability insurance. The teams are responsible for their own steering and line selection.
